Build wealth and secure your future with a self-directed retirement plan

Have you ever felt limited by the investment options you have for your retirement funds? Would you like more freedom?

A self-directed IRA is a retirement plan that allows you to choose where to invest your IRA money, as permitted under IRA rules. Invest your retirement plan into real estate, notes, limited partnerships, commercial paper and many other assets. With the great tax advantages provided by a self-directed IRA, you can potentially build wealth and secure your future more effectively.

Entrust is the only self-directed account provider serving customers through a nationwide network of offices.

The Entrust difference

For over a quarter of a century, Entrust has been showing individuals and small businesses how to achieve their retirement goals through self-directed IRAs.

Our national network of offices gives clients local expertise. This personalized service at the local level assists in getting questions answered and transactions closed quickly and efficiently.

Entrust delivers the service, expertise, education and trust that self-directed investors require.

A wide range of investment choices are accessible, including:

Real Estate

- Residential
- Rentals
- Undeveloped Land
- Foreclosures
- Commercial

A self-directed retirement plan gives you total control

Most IRA custodians or administrators, such as banks or brokerages, limit your IRA investment choices to the products they sell – such as stocks, bonds, and CDs.

As a self-directed administrator, Entrust does not sell or promote any product or limit your IRA investment options. You control the types of investments that you participate in and we provide the administration – after all, it's your IRA!

Getting started is as easy as 1, 2, 3!
